K. C. LIBRARIAN TO SPEAK HERE

Purd B. Wright To Address Commercial Club Thursday.

Purd B. Wright, public librarian of Kansas City, will speak on "The Library and the Business Man" at the Commercial Club luncheon Thursday at the Virginia Grill. This address and the conference Thursday afternoon may result in a definite movement to get a Columbia public library that will be a credit to the city.

H. O. Severance, University librarian, believes that efforts should be made to get Andrew Carnegie to build the library, and then, the city would have to give one-tenth of the cost of the building for its upkeep. Columbia should have a library costing $20,000 to $30,000, he says. Mr. Wright has a reputation as a library builder.
